20th SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

"There is a baptism with which I must be baptized, and how great is my anguish until it is accomplished! Do you think that I have come to establish peace on the earth? No, I tell you, but rather division. From now on a household of five will be divided, three against two and two against three." - Lk 12:50-52

Message from the Pastor

ERIE GIVES – AUGUST 12, 2025: Thanks to all those who donated to our various projects during the Erie Gives campaign. Your generosity is amazing, and your gifts will continue to nourish our parish, our churches and our cemeteries.

CHRIST’S PRESENCE IN THE EUCHARIST: We do not begin our celebration of the Eucharist with Christ’s absence and then suddenly experience Christ’s presence. God is always present to us; it is a matter of us being aware of that presence.

The Eucharist = Christ’s real presence + our real presence.

I have been reflecting on the presence of Christ in the Eucharist. Christ is present in four ways in the Eucharist: In the Assembly (people), the Word of God in the Scripture readings, the Bread and Wine that become the Body and Blood of Christ, and the person of the Priest. I have reflected the last two weeks on how Christ is presence in us, the assembly, and in the Word of God in the readings from Scripture. Allow me to look at Christ present in the bread and wine this week.

3. Christ is present in the bread and wine. This is the presence of Christ we may think we know best, but we don’t often recognize the multiple presences of Christ in our celebration of the Eucharist in the forms of bread and wine.

In the Eucharist, God transforms the bread and wine into the body and blood of Christ through the prayers and actions of the priest and the prayers and actions of the people present. We have a word for this, Transubstantiation. This word means that the bread and wine appear and taste like bread and wine, but in fact have been changed at the very level of their substance into the Body and Blood of Christ. This is what Jesus did at the Last Supper. He took the bread and wine and changed it into his Body and Blood and gave it to his disciples. Jesus also told them to “Do this in memory of me.” And in fact, that is what we do in our celebration of the Eucharist.

Remembering that Jesus did this at the Last Supper, on the night before he suffered and died and then three days later rose from the dead, we also celebrate these mysteries of our salvation every time we celebrate the Eucharist. Jesus gives us his Body and Blood in order that we might be strengthened to enter into the dyings and risings that happen to us in our own lives. Ultimately, when we face our final death, we are given the promise and the hope of resurrection to eternal life.

We might also remember that when we eat a meal with people, we are drawn together with them and nourished at the same time. The same is true in the Eucharist, Jesus draws us together as his people and nourishes us to face the struggles, difficulties, and even deaths that we encounter in life. The unity that is created among us lies in the fact that we believe that “we are what we eat.” We become the presence of Christ for others by our sharing in this Eucharist. We are called then to live out this presence of Christ in our daily lives, outside of church.

I mentioned at the beginning that we experience multiple presences of Christ in the forms of bread and wine in the Eucharist. This is something we do not always understand and can be confusing. As we enter the church, we recognize that the Body of Christ in the form of bread is reserved in the tabernacle. This is one presence of Christ in the Eucharist. This presence allows us to do two things: one is to recognize the presence of Christ that is always in our church building and two, there is always Eucharist that can be taken to the sick or the dying at any time.

While this presence of Christ is in the tabernacle, the priest and people celebrating the Eucharist are transforming bread and wine on the altar to become the Body and Blood of Christ. So now there is the presence of Christ in the tabernacle and the presence of Christ on the altar.

During our celebration of the Eucharist, we come forward to receive the Body and Blood of Christ. So now there are multiple presences of Christ: in the tabernacle, on the altar, and in each one of us. When we receive the Body and Blood of Christ it does not disappear but actually dwells within us, in effect we become a tabernacle or an altar. We receive the Body and Blood of Christ and become what we eat, the very presence of Christ. The deacon or priest will send us forth at the end of Mass with the words, “Go in peace, proclaiming the Gospel by your lives.” Our celebration of the Eucharist doesn’t end in church but continues in the way we live our lives outside of church, by the ways that we are Eucharist to one another.

I suspect this final presence of Christ, the presence in each of us individually, is the presence we often fail to recognize. We fail to recognize it in ourselves and in each other. There should be a tremendous reverence for one another in the fact that we have now become the Body and Blood of Christ, we have become what we have consumed. Even as a church, we fail to recognize this presence

Family Perspective

Today, Jesus warns us that His Word will create conflict between parents and children. In a permissive society that promotes individualism and consumerism, parents must steadfastly teach and embody the gospel values of respect, service to others, forgiveness, generosity, and compassion. A Christian family is a countercultural family.

and become focused instead on the presence of Christ in the tabernacle. The presence of Christ in the tabernacle is there so that we can take it to the sick and dying. It is not there for us at this point in our celebration of the Eucharist, because Christ has entered into our very person, we are in communion with Christ. This is the presence of Christ we should be focused on and be praying in thanksgiving for. But too often we dismiss this presence of Christ and focus on the presence of Christ in the tabernacle. Both are real presences, but I suspect the one God is most deeply concerned with is the presence that resides in each one of us.
